Operations Field Crew for Ecological Restoration and Vegetation

Scrub Growers Ltd provide a specialist combination of services in the field of environmental restoration and land management. We are based near Silverdale, north of Auckland, and operate throughout the Rodney district and wider Auckland region.

In addition to our native revegetation nursery, we provide expert planning and advice, and are able to deliver all operational aspects of environmental restoration projects. This includes the eco-sourcing of seed, plant propagation, weed and animal pest control, and planting implementation, maintenance and monitoring.

We are currently looking to fill a range of full-time field crew roles as our business grows, working on projects from the restoration of remnant bush areas to invasive weed control in regional parks. We welcome applications from those with or without experience, however you must have a positive attitude to learn the ways of ecological restoration, demonstrate a cool head and common sense at all times, and be punctual, reliable and honest.

Our teams work really hard in challenging outdoor environments and are focused on safely delivering high quality jobs. You'll need to love being in bush and rural areas, be physically fit and thrive on the challenge of tackling the enhancement of our natural environment.

The rewards are the outstanding environments we get to work in, industry-comparable rates of pay with the opportunity to earn as much as you can plant in winter, and the opportunity for training and growth within our friendly and quality-focused business.

Key responsibilities of the roles include:

- Pest plant control
- Grid searching large areas of bush
- Herbicide application for the maintenance of large-scale revegetation plantings

- NZ class 1 full driving licence, and be confident driving manual vehicles
- NZ Citizen, NZ Permanent Resident or hold a valid NZ work permit
- A passion for the natural environment and its enhancement
